MOVEMENT FOR DEPOT UNDER WAY

Petitions Being Circulated
Asking L. & N. Railroad
To Act.

EVERYBODY SIGNING.

Belief Is Strong That The Company Will Build In The Spring.

A petition to President M. H. Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad is being circulated and everybody is joining in the request for a new and adequate depot to take the place of the one that no longer meets the requirements of Hopkinsville. The Latham Park will give it a beautiful background and the vacant square west of the present depot can be utilized for a suitable structure. Hundreds have already signed the petition which appears below:

The petition reads as follows:

THE PETITION.

To Milton H. Smith, President of the L. & N. R. R. Co., Louisville, Ky.

We, the undersigned citizens of Hopkinsville, Ky., hereby petition you as the official head of the great corporation you so ably represent. Hopkinsville is located in one of the largest and wealthiest counties in the state. The business that your company does on the division from Nashville to Henderson, we believe to be the most profitable that is furnished by any like mileage in your whole system, except that done on the main stem between Louisville and Nashville.

Some years since, recognizing the material development and great growth of Hopkinsville, you erected a new freight depot that has met the wants of shippers and receivers of freight. For this considerate provision, the people of Hopkinsville are grateful and have shown their appreciation by the increased business that they have given your company since the new freight depot was built.

The immediate and pressing need

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Mayor Recommends That All Business Houses Close From 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

To the People of Hopkinsville:

In accordance with the proclamations of the President of the United States and the Governor of Kentucky, setting apart a day of thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26, I, Chas. M. Meacham, mayor of the city of Hopkinsville, hereby call upon all the people of Hopkinsville to observe the day thus set apart in a manner that will give an opportunity for every one to rest from his labors and join in the giving of thanks for blessings that have been enjoyed.

The people of Hopkinsville have much to be thankful for. The business men have passed through a period of dullness and inactivity with less cause for complaint than most cities in this or adjoining states.

The health of the people has been remarkably good, and the death rate extremely low.

The churches have all added to their membership and several revivals of unusual proportions have been held in the city.

There have been no epidemics, calamities or serious conflagrations during the year 1908.

of our community is a new passenger depot. The present one is utterly inadequate to the requirements of the people and unworthy of the progressive and up-to-date policy which has always characterized your administration of your company's affairs. It is a discredit to our city. Our people are more than fairly representative of the progress and enterprise that have marked the south during the last decade. Hence they are entitled to the best.

A JUST APPEAL.

The relations between any great railroad company and the cities which it has in any sense created are always necessary reciprocal if the great benefits to both are to be realized. It is on this principle that we feel justified in appealing to you on the subject of this petition. The traveling public demand this new depot. The people of Hopkinsville deserve it. The Louisville and Nashville railroad company owes it to the condition and to the community. The cost of such a depot as would be commensurate with the requirements of the case, which would be entirely satisfactory to the people of Hopkinsville and at the same time be a credit to your company, would

The schools are all enjoying increased attendance and are flourishing as never before.

The administration of the city affairs has been characterized by harmony in all departments and by co-operation in promoting morality at all times.

There have been no race troubles, and at the close of a heated campaign political differences have engendered no lasting bitterness to interfere with the general good will.

There have been fewer violations of law than usual and no shocking crimes have disturbed the serenity of the city. In order that proper thanks may be given to the Giver of all good for these and other blessings, I do herein recommend that each and every business house, or other place of public character, be closed on Thursday, November 26th, from 10 a. m. until 1 o'clock p. m., in order that all of the people who desire to do so may be permitted to join in the thanksgiving services to be held at the churches. Done under my hand this November 24, 1908.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM,

not in any sense be a tax upon your resources, but would be merely an incidental expense in the intelligent and politic conduct of your corporate affairs. The heart of our whole people is in this appeal and we do not think that you will hesitate to grant so reasonable a request.

MRS. RANDLE W. U. MANAGER RETIRES TO-DAY

Service Has Covered a Period of More Than Thirty-five Years.

CHANGE AT ONCE.

Her Successor Will Be Miss Katherine Mitchell, of Kansas.

Mrs. W. F. Randle, local operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company, will be retired on a pension today, after a continuous service of 35 years and three months. Mrs. Randle came to this city in 1873 from her home at Lavergne, Tenn., where she had learned telegraphy under her brother. Before her marriage she was Miss Mattie Park and she was married to Mr. W. F. Randle in 1875.

Her service has been uninterrupted for a period longer than any other business agency or enterprise in the city, without change of management. Her record is one of the most remarkable made by any operator on the Western Union system.

The office has been moved five times since Mrs. Randle became the manager, only a few days ago having been removed to the Skarry building on Second avenue, a few doors from the location it has held since 1897. Mrs. Randle has handled a vast volume of business, probably as many as 1,000,000 messages. She is a thoroughly efficient operator and her service at all times has been faithful, skillful and loyal to the company. She was patient, kind and courteous in dealing with the public and her popularity grew as the years lengthened into decades. In relieving her of active service the Western Union's superintendent, J. R. Terhune wrote:

"We desire to thank you for your long and faithful services and trust that the relief from the burden and cares of the office will be of benefit to you."

During most of her management, her sister, Miss Mary Park, has been her capable assistant in the office work. She will retire with Mrs. Randle, not having been an applicant for the place here.

Mrs. Randle's successor will be Miss Katherine Mitchell, of Bennington, Kan., who is quite a young woman for so responsible a position. She has already arrived in the city.

Will Serve Dinner.

The ladies of Westminster Presbyterian church will serve dinner at Odd Fellows Hall next Monday, Nov. 30. Dinner 25c.

LUSITANIA A SUFFRAGETTE.

Big Ship Reaches New York Flying a "Votes For Women" Banner.

The Lusitania came up to her pier the other day a full fledged English suffragette, wearing her colors and the words "Votes For Women" along her side. Mrs. Nora S. Blatch De Forest, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, granddaughter of the late Elizabeth Cady Stanton and wife of Lee De Forest, the wireless telegraph and telephone man, was returning with her husband from England and had hung out the English suffragette colors from the promenade deck. The letters were white on a purple ground and caused much interest in the crowd awaiting incoming passengers.

Mr. and Mrs. De Forest went aboard immediately after their marriage last February on a combined honeymoon and business trip. Mrs. De Forest was one of the women who succeeded in getting past the police platoon in one of the big demonstrations directed against the house of parliament in October. She also surprised the guests of the hotel where she was stopping in London by appearing in a short skirt, a sweater and a big sash across her breast in the English suffragette colors, purple, white and green, and the familiar words, "Votes For Women," across it.

It was with the aid of a steward that Mrs. De Forest decorated the Lusitania, the suffragette document remaining in place until she was obliged to leave the ship. The steward confided to her that he was entirely in sympathy with the suffragettes.

IN FAVOR OF CORSETS.

Doctor Doubts if Women Could Stand Without Artificial Prop.

Dr. L. E. Landrone, whose plan to improve the human race by applying Luther Burbank's plant theories to the training of children has attracted much attention, recently commended the modern corset. In an address before the members of the Women's Literary club at Los Angeles, Cal., he declared that the stays were good for the reason that the torso muscles have been weakened for centuries through the generous support of the corset until now the average female form could not stand without its help.

"In the time of Queen Elizabeth, you know, women wore steel corsets tightly buckled in the front and back," said Dr. Landrone. "They were instruments of torture. From them has evolved the comfortable corset of this date."

The speaker said that the body was composed of chemical fluids at the mercy of the emotions. Anger, hatred and sorrow poison the fluids of the body, while love, cheerfulness and happiness serve as eliminators of the motive fatigue poisons.

"Anger and hatred will poison forty-two fluids of the woman's body," said Dr. Landrone. "Pleasure stimulates, and that is why when tired, especially when young, an evening of dancing and music will remove all signs of fatigue."

"What a frail looking body that poor ty has!" exclaimed the innocent city boarder.

"Don't you fool with that frail body," rejoined the old farmer. "It belongs to a wasp, and if you get familiar you'll find it strong enough in the end."—New York Journal.

ARCTIC TEMPERATURES.

Zero Weather is Regarded as Mild and Agreeable.

According to eminent Arctic explorers, physical sensations are relative and the mere enumeration of so many degrees of heat or cold gives no idea of their effect upon the system.

One explorer states that he should have frozen at home in England in a temperature that he found very comfortable indeed in Lapland, with his cold diet of meat and butter and his garments of reindeer.

The following is a correct scale of the physical effects of cold, calculated for the latitude of 65 to 70 degrees north:

Fifteen degrees above zero—unpleasantly warm.

Zero—mild and agreeable.

Ten degrees below zero—pleasantly fresh and bracing.

Twenty degrees below zero—sharp, but not severely cold. One must keep one's fingers and toes in motion and rub one's nose occasionally.

Thirty degrees below zero—very cold. Particular care must be taken of the nose and extremities. Plenty of the fattest food must be eaten.

Forty degrees below zero—intensely cold. One must keep awake at all hazards, muffle up to the eyes and test the circulation frequently, that it may not stop somewhere before one knows it.

Fifty degrees below zero—a struggle for life.—Chicago Record-Herald.

PETTING A HORSE.

If You Want to Please Him Rub Him Between the Ears.

"Not many people know how to pet a horse, from the horse's standpoint, at any rate," said a trainer. "Every nice looking horse comes in for a good deal of petting. Hit it a true horse close to the curb and you'll find that half the non-owners and children who go by will stop for a minute, say 'Nice horse' and give him an affectionate pat or two.

"The trouble is they don't pat him in the right place. If you want to make a horse think he is going straight to heaven hitched to a New York cab or delivery wagon, rub his eyelids. Next to that form of endorsement a horse likes to be rubbed right up between the ears. In petting horses most people slight those nerve centers. They stroke the horse's nose. While a well behaved horse will accept the nasal caress complacently, he would much prefer that nice, soothing touch applied to the eyelids. Once in a while a person comes along who really does know how to pet a horse. Nine times out of ten that man was brought up in the country among horses and learned when a boy their peculiar ways."—New York Globe.

Queer Old Book Titles.

These are some of the odd titles of old English books published in the time of Cromwell:

"A Most Delectable Sweet Perfumed Nosegay For God's Saints to Smell At."

"Biscuit Baked In the Oven of Charity, carefully conserved for the Chickens of the Church, the Sparrows of the Spirit and the Sweet Swallows of Salvation."

"A Sigh of Sorrow For the Sinners of Zion breathed out of a Hole in the Wall of an Earthly Vessel known Among Men by the name of Samuel Fish."

"Eggs of Charity Layed For the Chickens of the Covenant and Boiled with the Water of Divine Love. Take ye out and Eat."

"The Spiritual Mustard Pot to make the Soul Sneeze with Devotion."

The Sailor's Prayer Book.

"This is what you call the sailor's prayer book," a seaman said bitterly as he kicked a holystone out of the way. "Why is it called that? Well, in the first place, it is called that because in using it, in holystoning the deck, the sailor has to kneel down, and, in the second place, because all holystoning is done on Sunday. Don't you know the chantey?"

"Six days shalt thou work and do all that thou art able."

"And on the seventh holystone the decks and scrape the cable."

"The stone is called holystone because the first holystones were bits of tombs stolen from cemeteries. It's got a pious, religious sound—holystone and prayer book and Sunday and all that—but it is when he is using this stone that the seaman is most profane."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

It Happened Before.

A self made, self satisfied and self assertive itinerant preacher was expatiating to a college graduate on his own eloquence.

"Colleges," he declared, "ain't necessary when a preacher's got a genuine call to the ministry. I'm thankful to say the Lord opened my mouth without education."

"That's interesting," returned his hearer. "Come to think of it, something like that happened several thousand years ago in connection with Hiram, wasn't it?"—Circus Magazine.

"Big talker," cried the Indian who had been listening to a local candidate. "Heap scrap."

"And what if he is not elected?"

"Scrap heap."—Kansas City Journal.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous In Hopkinsville.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in times of danger.

Backache is kidney danger.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quick.

Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this.

F. M. Hall, Cadiz, Ky., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was pleased with the result derived. For six years my kidneys did not do their work properly. I had severe pains in the small of my back and whenever I stooped or lifted, sharp twinges would cause me great misery. At night my back ached considerably and mornings when first arising, would be very lame. I became tired easily and became very dull and languid. Dizzy spells also caused me much annoyance and at times blurred my eyesight. The passages of the kidney secretions were two frequent and at times I was forced to rise during the night on this account. Whenever I caught cold, it settled on my kidneys and caused me to suffer more intensely. I recently procured Doan's Kidney Pills and although I have used but the contents of one box, I have received great relief. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy that is up to representations."

Plenty more proof like this from Hopkinsville people. Call at L. A. Johnson & Co.'s drug store and ask what their customers report.

Where He Didn't Study.

"My grandson" cried the sympathetic girl. "Your dog seems half starved. He looks as if he hadn't had anything to eat for a week."

"Neither he has, poor fellow!" replied the college student. "I forgot all about him."

"Why, where was he?"

"Locked up in my study room!"—Philadelphia Record.

Poor Eve.

"When Adam and his family were expelled from the garden of Eden," said the student, "human strife and unhappiness began."

"Yes," replied Mr. Meekton, "and I suppose the first note of discord was sounded when Adam wanted to start the journey with a suit case, while Eve insisted on half a dozen six story trucks."—Washington Star.

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Probably rain and colder Thursday.

Gov. Cummins has been elected Senator from Iowa and is succeeded as Governor by Lieut. Gov. Garret.

A juror named Marrs stated that Jesse Wells had offered to bribe him at Murray. Wells appeared in court and entered a denial.

Bryan's vote in Indiana was 338,262, nearly 100,000 more than he got in Kentucky. Taft's majority was 10,731.

The teachers' association of the Second Congressional district will meet at Madisonville to-morrow and Saturday.

Miss Loretta Gardner, who went to sleep at St. Louis, Nov. 13, after baffling all efforts to arouse her, awoke Nov. 24, apparently in good health.

The list of contributions to the Republican campaign fund was filed Monday at Albany, New York. The total sum handled in Mr. Taft's interest was over $1,600,000. Charles P. Taft was the largest individual contributor, having given $110,000. The bulk of the contributions were made by Eastern men.

The peculations of Judge Chas. E. Booe, claim clerk in the auditor's office, are piling up as the investigation proceeds. Booe is a Democrat, a holdover from the Democratic administration. It is not to the credit of the party that Democratic papers are trying to condone his crime. If he is the thief the facts seem to indicate, he is entitled to no sympathy. His proper place is in the penitentiary.

A split occurred in the organization of the Democratic committee in Calaway. Of the 14 members 9 who had evidently met and organized and 5 who had no regular credentials were denied votes. These 5 and 3 others then left the room and formed a separate organization with Jno. A. Keys as chairman. The regular committee elected Newt Crisman chairman and Zeb Stewart secretary. Crisman represents the Wells faction and Keys the Cook faction. Wells' candidate carried West Murray over the Cook candidate by 150 to 20.

The soldiers are to be withdrawn from active duty in this city after having been under arms for one year, lacking twelve days. Their services to the State have been patriotic and in many ways effective. In the face of undeserved criticism from the lawless element and those in sympathy with lawlessness, they have performed their duties faithfully, with prudence, patience and forbearance, but with unflinching courage and patriotism. It is to be hoped that the soldiers will not be needed again, but if they are the people know that they can be fully trusted. No one doubts that the Governor will again put them in the field if night riding is resumed, for it has been fully demonstrated that night riders and military patrols do not ride the same highways at the same time.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by inserting into the ear a small, round, rubber tube. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound in your ears, which is sometimes very annoying. It is entirely curable, and when it is cured, there is no danger of its returning. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for each case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that can be cured by our Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Stock Company Will Hold the Boards At Holland's Opera House.

The Dillingham Stock Company will open a week's engagement at Holland's Opera House Monday night, Nov. 30. The company is playing at Bowling Green this week.

SENORAH MERCEDES ALVIN, WITH DILLINGHAM STOCK CO.

Concerning their appearance in the Park City, the News says: "Presenting 'A Cowboy Captain' the Dillingham Stock Company opened a week's engagement in Bowling Green Opera House last night. 'The house was packed and in the manner in which the play was received by the audience it will prove to be a success. The management announced that a basket of money will be given away on Saturday evening to the person holding the 'lucky number.'"

Chas. J. Magness has been taken to Portsmouth, N. H., for imprisonment for desertion from the navy. His wife went with him.

Three negroes named Stinebeck killed Deputy Sheriff Richard Burns and fatally wounded John Hall, another deputy at Tiptonville, Tenn., in a fight in which the officers were attempting to arrest the negroes for disturbing public worship. They escaped to a swamp, but were pursued and captured and Justice of the Peace Davis held an examining trial, empaneled a jury and a verdict of death was returned and the negroes were turned over to a mob and hanged on the spot. This was in a county adjoining the one in which the night rider troubles occurred. Soldiers started to the scene, but arrived too late.

The New Depot.

We are glad to give our enthusiastic endorsement to the movement on foot to secure a new passenger depot for Hopkinsville.

The undertaking is being worked in the right way and should have the hearty co-operation of every citizen of the town.

The petition prepared for presentation to President Milton H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad is persuasive in appeal and unanswerable in argument. It deserves, and we believe it will receive, his most considerate attention, and favorable reply. We hope President Smith will fully appreciate the spirit which prompted the petition.

The effort to secure the new depot was put in that form, not because our people felt that they were asking anything more than their rights entitle them to, but because of their great respect for President Smith personally and their faith in his prompt acquiescence in their request.

A new passenger depot commensurate with the present population and business importance of Hopkinsville would probably not cost over $30,000. This would be a mere bagatelle for a corporation with a stock and bond capitalization of over $125,000,000.

Hopkinsville contributes liberally to the earnings of the L. & N. Railroad, and, therefore, our community deserves the Company's generous consideration in all things.

We are only asking now that reasonable provision be made for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of road.

Incidentally, the new passenger depot would reflect progressive policy on the part of the management.

with the growth and improvement which is so happily apparent throughout our town.

The mercantile business of Hopkinsville shows continuous expansion, our manufacturing industries are steadily multiplying and our banking activities have been increased in proportion to the greater commercial requirement.

These gratifying statistics bespeak the forward movement of the city along all lines of energetic enterprise and prosperous development.

It is out of the question to make any specimen of public utility which was planned to meet the demands upon it twenty years ago suffice for the same purpose to-day. We have completely outgrown all the things that fitted us when we were little and one of these things is the present passenger depot. Aside from being too small for us it has become shabby and disreputable. It is a worn-out thing of the past, too far gone for either enlargement or repair. All conditions combine in demanding that we turn down to make place for a new structure, commodious, substantial and ornate.

This is what that urgent petition to President Smith means; no more, no less. If it does not bring promptly a favorable reply—but why suggest any possible doubt?

We all know President Smith. We are familiar with his marked ability in administering the affairs of the corporation he represents. There are manifold evidences of his intelligent endeavors to conserve the public interest while simultaneously promoting the welfare of the great property he controls.

We would never suspect him of practicing a short-sighted policy, even in the name of economy.

VOTES GO TO TAFT

Queer Situation Decided By Governor Folk.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Gov. Joseph W. Folk this afternoon decided that under the Missouri statute, the entire electoral votes of the State should go to William H. Taft. This decision was made in spite of the fact that Brannock, the Bryan elector for the Sixteenth Congressional District, received more votes than Kiehl, the second Republican elector at large, who received the lowest vote on the Republican electoral ticket. Brannock, however, received fewer votes than the Republican elector for the Sixteenth District.

The Missouri statute requires that an elector shall reside in the district for which he is elected.

Taking the vote of the first elector as a basis, the plurality of Taft in Missouri is 1,026.

THE MUSICAL EVENT OF THE SEASON.

Manager Holland wishes to announce to the theatre going public of Hopkinsville that he has secured for one performance, Friday night, Nov. 27, at the Opera House, a high class Semi-Operatic Production, "The Toy Maker's Dream," an adoption from the German, that is one of the very few shows on the road to-day that is a guaranteed attraction. Not like the ordinary class of shows this is composed of artists of national reputation and among its members numbers such well known people as Miss Louise McClaire, who has been with many New York successes and has been in the employ of the Charles Frohman forces for past four seasons. She is one of the few women of the stage today that possesses the following list of good qualities so seldom found in one person, namely: handsome stage appearance, excellent singing voice and ability to act second to none. She is a close second to the star, Mr. William C. Cushman, who is too well known to need any introduction. His ability has gained for him the reputation of being one of the best character singing comedians in the world. All lovers of real good comedy and the finest kind of high class music should secure their seats at once for "The Toy Maker's Dream."

Those Who Have Used Pe-ru-na Are the Only Ones Who Really Know

Many a matron has lengthened the life of her comely appearance by taking Peruna. To be beautiful, the body must be kept clean internally as well as externally. Peruna produces clean mucous membranes, the basis of facial symmetry, and a clear, healthy complexion.

MISS NETTIE E. BOGARDUS

Internal Catarrh

Mrs. George C. Worstell, 11 River Road, Clarksville, W. Va., writes: "I trust that no one will think from this that I want my name in public for any cause only to let sufferers know where they may find relief from many ailments. "I can truly say I have been much benefited by the use of Peruna. I feel better than I have for two years. It is the best medicine that I know for internal catarrh. "I have taken medicine from the doctors and found no relief; but when I began taking Peruna I could see that before I had finished taking the first bottle it was doing me good."

Pe-ru-na Tablets

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets. Each tablet is equivalent to an average dose of Peruna.

Pe-ru-na Prolonged Her Life

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, 43 St. Felix Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years' treatment by special physicians. I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints. You have no idea what your treatment has done for me. It certainly has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me. "O such a blessing I have received through your kindness, doctor, and the assistance of the medicine which you have so kindly prescribed. I am able to work since I began your treatment, but before I was not able to help myself, much less work for anyone else. All praise is due to Dr. Hartman and his treatment."

My Sister Advised Me to Try Peruna.

I Took Your Treatment and My Appetite Returned Speedily. I Gained Strength and Flesh and Am in Perfect Health.

I Am So Thankful Your Medicine Has Done Me So Much Good.

—So Says Miss Julia Butler, Of Appleton, Wis.

Sick Headache

Miss Nettie E. Bogardus, R. F. D. 11, Watfield, N. Y., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from sick headaches, but am now entirely free from that trouble. I have not felt so well in ten years as I do now. "I would recommend Peruna and Maslin to all sufferers. I will say, God bless Dr. Hartman and his wonderful remedies."

Weak, No Appetite

Mrs. Ruth B. Brent, Holmes, Ill., writes: "I was in poor health three years ago. I kept getting worse, and I finally was so weak that I could not sit up all day. My feet and hands were always cold. I had no appetite. "I consulted one of the best doctors, who said I could not be cured. I was nervous, my heart would flutter, and I had a pain in my left side and also had chronic constipation. "I got a bottle of Peruna and one of Manlin and wrote to you for advice. While under your treatment I gained three pounds a month. "I took several more bottles of Peruna and now I am well. I am able to do all my housework—cooking, washing, ironing, baking and mending. "Everybody compliments me on looking so much better than I used to, and now I have a girl baby six months old, as fat as she can be. "She is what I call a Peruna baby, for I know it had not been for Peruna she would not be here."

For Suffering Women

Miss Esther Lee, 302 Madison Street, Topeka, Kas., Secretary Tripe Tie Social Club, writes: "Fourteen months ago I began to be troubled with internal catarrh, which left me pale, weak and nervous. I decided to give Peruna a trial. "To my great relief, I found that my general health improved. I kept growing stronger, and within three months I was in my usual normal condition. I cannot recommend Peruna too highly to suffering women."

THREE LECTURES

In County By Dr. Ramsey, December 5.

The County School Improvement League had a call meeting here Monday which was well attended. The object of the meeting was to make arrangements for a visit from Dr. Geo. W. Ramsey, who will deliver a lecture in the city Saturday, Dec. 6. The tabernacle was secured and Dr. Ramsey will lecture at 2 p. m., that day. His lecture will be in the nature of an appeal to the people to take greater interest in school affairs, and it is desired that all patrons of schools and county teachers attend the meeting.

Dr. Ramsey will deliver a lecture at two other points in the county the same day, one at Pembroke at 10 o'clock in the morning and one at Crofton at 7 p. m.

CHRISTMAS STAMPS.

To Be Sold to Aid Anti-Tuberculosis Treatment.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—The organization being perfected by the Christmas Stamp Committee of the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association for the sale throughout this state of the Christmas Stamp is being extended to women's clubs and business men's organizations. In the cities of Paducah, Mayfield, Madisonville, Hopkinsville, Versailles, Frankfort, Shelbyville, Princeton, Elizabethtown, Bardonia and Carrollton, both men and women are being asked to aid in the sale and F. A. Sampson, secretary of the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association, will visit them in the near future to complete the organization. From many of these cities, word has already been received that co-operation will be cheerfully given and it is assured that the state as a whole will become familiar with the famous little Christmas sticker.

The Christmas stamp which is intended to go on letters, gifts and packages of all kinds during the holidays is to be sold for a cent. "It does not carry mail, but any kind of mail will carry it."

Last year in Delaware 400,000 of these stamps were sold and it is believed that in Kentucky fully a million will be put into use. It is expected the stamp will be put on sale Dec. 3rd and the sale will continue up until Christmas.

The first consignment of the stamps has been received at the local headquarters. These stamps came from Washington where they were printed by the Bureau of Printing and Engraving of the Government. The stamp is printed in two colors, red and green and the design is the work of Howard Pyle, the famous artist. "The Red Cross Christmas Stamp" is around the border while the yule-tide greetings, "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year," together with the Red Cross itself are emblazoned upon it.

The newspapers have made a generous response to the demands upon their space and their enthusiasm and it is now assured that a strong pull, a long pull and a pull all together, the first sale of the Christmas Stamp in Kentucky will be a tremendous success.

Deal Was Here.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 25.—The independent manufacturers, after dickering all day with the Burley Tobacco Society, finally concluded a deal with them by which they purchased the remaining 20,000,000 pounds of the society's pools of the 1906 and 1907 crops, amounting to about $3,750,000, at the same prices which were recently given by the American Tobacco Company for three-fourths of the pools of about 60,000,000 pounds, at an average price of about 19 cents per pound. Several subsidiary companies of the trusts attempted to bid on the pool, but they were barred by the Burley Tobacco Society. Small concerns scattered all over the United States pooled issues and were the purchasers.

Behman's Compromise.

By W. F. Bryan.

Copyrighted 1936, by Associated Literary Press.

For a third time the "By Request" was being fronted by the music stand, and as Arthur Behman came slowly down the stairs from the restaurant on the upper deck the strains of "The Merry Widow" waltz filled the social hall. Behman fled.

It was not so bad on the forward deck, where the screaming catgut was replaced by the music of the waves. Now and then the deep toned whistle sounded above the noise of the water, but a smart breeze from dead ahead carried off the sound of the man made music.

It was cool, almost cold, on the forward deck, and considerations of comfort as well as of courtesy held the people inside the cabin. Behman was glad that it was so.

He had the deck to himself, so he lit a cigar and took a camp chair well ahead of the deck lights, shaded to ward the bow that the port lights might be more easily seen by other boats.

There was no moon, but the stars shone brightly in the cloudless sky, and the Milky way, like some phantom banner, streamed across the blue expanse. Beyond the dark waters a darker tone told of the land, and here and there the lights of the beacons winked solemnly into the night.

There was the smell of salt in the air, the tang of the sea that Behman loved, and for the first time in weeks he almost knew content.

It was worth while, this communion of the night and the sea, and Behman was grateful to the musicians who had driven him from the cabin, with its satin upholstered chairs and its gaudy occupants.

Somewhere inside sat Nell Wheaton. He had seen her in the dining saloon, and he had taken a seat close to the stairs—and the music—that he might be as far from her as possible.

He had no mind to let her think that he would seek to attract her attention. He knew that she had learned that her jealousy was entirely without foundation. It was her place to speak first. Probably she was in there, with other tourists, listening to the band.

He was better off here in the cool of the summer evening. It was a symbol perhaps. He was far better off, after all, even if she had broken the engagement, and he had vowed that life was no longer worth the living.

Down on the lower deck a boyish laugh rang out. Half a dozen youngsters were crowded into the sharp bow and were leaning over the rail watching the white fall of water on either side of the prow.

Their voices came to Behman vaguely and indistinctly, and he smiled indulgently as he caught the note of youth and love of life. He had felt like a boy himself only a week ago.

Now he was a man who would carry through life the thought that a woman's jealousy and a woman's pride had spoiled his career. Let the boys have their laugh. Their awakening would come all too soon.

Behman found it rather pleasant to sit and dream of the last few weeks. He was at the stage where self commiseration is a luxury to wounded feelings, and he went over the incidents that had resulted in the breaking of the engagement by Nell Wheaton, assuring himself that his course had been blameless.

Surely it was Nell's place to speak, and as he started out into the night Behman found pleasant occupation in wondering just how she would make apology.

She was clearly in the wrong, and it would never do to bow to her before marriage. He would be heckpoked all his life, and Behman hated the sight of a heckpoked man.

He would be rather stern at first. He might even make her plead a little, but in the end he would be magnanimous and would forgive her on her promise not to offend again.

For her own sake as well as his, for the sake of their future happiness, there must be no compromise. He had hinted as much to Bob Wheaton when the latter had offered his services as peacemaker between his sister and Behman.

So engrossed was Behman with his thoughts that he did not hear the light footfall on the canvas covered deck nor realize that his solitude had been intruded upon until Nell Wheaton stood beside the rail and looked out across the foam capped waves.

She did not see him until she had taken her stand beside the rail, and then she was too proud to best a retreat. She sank quietly looking down at the water, one hand clasping the rail, the other clutching her hat.

On the lower deck the boys had piled into chairs, and now one of them was playing on the mouth organ. He was rather skillful and played with expression bits of popular songs and snatches from current musical productions. Behman found this concert more musical than the efforts of the poorly paid band within doors.

Then the music changed from new to old, and the boy was playing some of the songs that Nell had softly sung in the weeks just gone as he had padded the canoe or had drifted with the current.

In the dark of the night Behman could see the river again, with Nell's sweet eyes looking into his through the soft moonlight. He wondered if she, too, recalled the scene and if her eyes were filled with tears now. His own were moist as he listened, and when the boy struck up the song that had been their favorite his teeth met together through his cigar, and he tossed it over the rail. This was a simple little southern air, half mournful, wholly musical, and she had always sung it as they had come in sight of the landing. It had been their good night song, and as they had trudged up from the boat stage to the hotel she had always hummed it softly to herself. He wondered if she was humming it now. She might be. The wind would carry the song away from him.

The boy stopped, and the spell was broken, but another lad broke the silence. "That last was pretty, Dunc," he called. "Play 'er agin'."

The willing musician complied, and Behman rose to his feet. He could not sit still under that music, and he took a few nervous turns up and down the deck. He came to rest beside the rail, so close that he could reach out and touch the girl had he desired.

She had removed her glove, and one bare hand rested white against the white of the rail. Her face was turned from him, and she was looking out across the sound, pretending an interest in one of the winking beacons whose lights she could not see through her tears.

The young musician ended his tune and without pause began to play another, a farewell song that had been familiar to Behman since his childhood.

He knew that it was a favorite of Nell's, and he wondered if the song would make her smile. There was a lift to the fragile shoulders, as though she was holding back her sobs, but she gave no sign of being aware of his presence.

The music paused abruptly in the middle of a strain, as the mother of the player came to call him to bed, and with a shout the little party hurried into the cabin.

Nell paused a moment, then turned as though to go, but her hand rested over her own and the slender fingers firmly with a grip that pained.

"Don't go, Nell," pleaded Behman. "Stay here and make up."

"I thought that you would not even compromise," she said uncertainly.

"Compromise be hanged!" he cried. "I don't care what you think of me. I'm tired of waiting for you to be the first to speak. Will you be friends, dear?"

He felt the relaxation of her attitude, and he drew her within the circle of his arm.

"Is that the way you treat your friends?" she demanded, with a laugh.

"That's the way I treat my little girls," he explained. "I've been bad too. If you want to punish me, why?"

He paused suggestively, but Nell only tapped his bronzed cheek with her hand.

"It was punishment enough to have to break your no compromise declaration," she said lightly.

"That was not a punishment," was the fervent assertion. "I enjoyed it. I'm glad I found it out, because now after we're married there'll be no need of compromise."

"There'll be no need for making up," promised Nell as she slipped her arm through his.

Nero as an Art Lover.

One fact redeems to a certain extent the memory of an emperor whose name is held in abhorrence by young students of history. The fact is that, when the excavations have been made in grounds known to have belonged to Nero, some genuine work of a Greek master has been sure to come to light. In other words, the odd chance we have left of discovering lost masterpieces is to follow in the footsteps of Nero and search whatever building or site is known to have been inhabited by him—whether the golden house at Rome or the hunting box at Sublaquum or the sea cottage at Antium.

Born in the last named place on Dec. 15, A. D. 37, he seems to have been possessed of a double nature, one half of which was kind, generous, poetic, artistic, musical, while the other was unappealingly depraved. Nothing could show better this contrast in his personality than a comparison between two portrait busts, still extant, the first taken soon after his accession to the throne, while still guileless of dissipation, the other after a few years of shocking decadence and depravity. The account given by Suetonius of the first period of his career is quite charming. The youth appears to have been devoted, body and soul, to sport and art rather than to the ruling of the empire.

Arithmetic Made Easy.

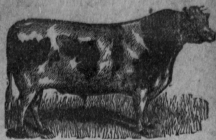

The class in business arithmetic in one of the evening schools is made up wholly of men who wield the pickax and push the shovel during the day. These men are ambitious to improve their minds, and the fact that they give up their evenings to study shows that they appreciate the value of a trained mind. But they are pathetically stupid in some things.

"On the first evening," said the teacher, "I asked the class, 'How much is six times two?' There was no apparent desire to solve the question, but no amount of loud scratching or jabbering of brows could bring forth an answer."

"I'll put the question in another way," said I. "Suppose your boss is paying you at the end of $2 a day, how much do you get at the end of a week's work?"

"Every man had his hand up. Twelve dollars," said one in the first row.

"These men can think in dollars and cents quickly enough," said the teacher, "but figures are Greek to them." —New York Press.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 25.—Examination was completed by state auditor of accounts Antz for the first three months of 1904 the business done in the claims department conducted by Judge C. E. Booe, who was arrested Saturday charged with forgery and misappropriating state funds. The investigation shows that during that short time at the beginning of the term of Auditor Hager, the sum of $1,354.60 was taken through the medium of padded claim warrants. Booe to-day turned over to state officials all of his property, which, it is believed, will net about $10,000.

If the rate padding, so far found, was maintained during the complete term of office held by Booe, it is expected that the amount of his defalcation will reach over $20,000.
